SUBSPACE IDENTIFICATION FOR LINEAR SYSTEMS

Subspace Identification for Linear Systems focuses on the theory, implementation and applications of subspace identification algorithms for linear time-invariant finite-dimensional dynamical systems.

Data set used for the identification of the glass tube production process of Chapter 6. The process is excited using pseudo-binary noise sequences as inputs (top two signals).

(PDF) Subspace Identification for Linear Systems: Theory

Subspace Identification for Linear Systems is an important reference for all researchers in system theory, control theory, signal processing, automation, mechatronics, chemical, electrical, mechanical and aeronautical engineering.

Subspace Identification for Linear Systems: Theory

In this paper, we generalize a class of existing linear subspace identification techniques to subspace identification algorithms for bilinear, discrete time, time invariant systems.

(PDF) Subspace Identification of Bilinear Systems Subject

The authors generalize linear subspace identification theory to an analog theory for the subspace identification of bilinear systems. A major assumption they make is that the inputs of the system ...
